4. How to Use

Let's walk in customer's shoes and perform necessary actions to get the gift certificate.

If customer wants to buy a certificate, he clicks on the certificate he sees in a catalog and gets detailed information on this item.

If you've chosen dropdown price type in admin panel, the field of selected amount looks like this:

Here customer chooses the right amount and makes a purchase.
Fixed price type:

Range price type:

Custom price type:

Also customer has to consider whether to send a certificate to his friend or to himself. To do that client has to choose one of two options in 'Send this gift certificate(s)' field:

- To Myself – system uses the information on a user that he put on his profile and sends the certificate to his address;
- To Friend – client has to type his friend's information: name, e-mail, postal address, and any message he wants.

The important thing is that if your product has a real form, the certificate will be sent to the postal address and then delivered to recipient of the gift. If the product is virtual, your customer will have his certificate delivered to the e-mail he typed in necessary field.

So, you've made the certificate and sent it. What's next? Your friend (or yourself), who received a letter with certificate, needs to find product's page, put this product to the cart and apply the code that was given you in the letter.
